Welcome

As President of ICAEW, it is my great pleasure to welcome you to Chartered Accountants' Hall today.

There are over 1.8m chartered accountants and students around the world. Over 180,000 of these are ICAEW Chartered Accountants and students. We train, develop and support each one of them so that they have the knowledge and values to help build strong local economies and to build a strong global economy, all founded on principles of sustainability, accountability and fairness.

We aim to give our members an edge in a profession that is at the heart of business and the global economy.

We do that as a chartered body acting with integrity, objectivity and for the public benefit, which we believe is best for the long-term interests of the profession and for society generally.

We are committed to widening access through non-university routes, such as apprenticeships and the ICAEW CFAB qualification. And we are taking practical steps to improve diversity and social mobility in the profession.

We are also working to support economic growth, for example, through providing free advice to small and growing businesses, including those wishing to export, through our Business Advice Service.

ICAEW's vision is a world of strong economies. To achieve this we work with others in partnership, but each of us has a personal role to play in delivering this vision and I invite our prizewinners to consider what you can do for the public benefit, for example, helping young people become financially literate, becoming a trustee for a charity, or getting involved with your local student group, district society or member group.

As an ICAEW Chartered Accountant, the world is your oyster, and I wish you all the very best with the rest of your studies and your future careers.

Paul Aplin
ICAEW PRESIDENT

Keynote address

Thank you to our keynote speaker, Carol Handa, for generously giving her time to speak at this year's prizegiving ceremony.

Carol is a Finance Director at St. Modwen Properties PLC (a FTSE 250 property investment and development business).

Carol started her career at KPMG, with three years in audit followed by various secondments, including one year in the KPMG Madrid office in Transaction Services.

While at KPMG, Carol took two months out of the business to travel to Sierra Leone, volunteering with a charity rehousing street children and bringing them back into the education system.

Carol has since had a varied career, spending time at global companies including BT, Arcadia and latterly as finance director for operations at L'Oreal before making the move to St. Modwen.

She is driven by being able to combine both her creative and more analytical sides to not just understand and interpret business results, but to add real value to the organisations she represents.

When not at work, you will likely find Carol travelling with her family and friends, always trying to expand on the three languages she speaks.

Carol Handa
REGIONAL FINANCE DIRECTOR
ST. MODWEN PROPERTIES PLC

Our competition has now launched to find the brightest young leaders to represent us at the next One Young World summit in London, 22-25 October. We're looking for you to demonstrate your passion not only for chartered accountancy but how the profession can contribute to global challenges.

'No one expects us to achieve change straight away, but changing the world could start with changing one person's world.'

As the 2018 Chartered Star winner, Ali Qasim, flew the flag for young chartered accountants at the One Young World Summit in The Hague. Representing ICAEW and Chartered Accountants Worldwide, he had the chance to network, debate, make long-lasting connections and discuss innovative solutions for solving some of the world's issues.

How to enter

If you're a leader aged 18-35 with a passion for global issues and a track record of making a significant impact in your community, country or organisation, then you could be part of the 2019 One Young World delegation.

You must produce a pitch that focuses on one of the five One Young World 2019 plenary session themes and how chartered accountants and the profession can contribute to these, in one of the following formats:

- an article/blog of no more than 500 words;
- a video/vlog of no more than five minutes; or
- an infographic.

You will then need to publish and share your pitch on a social media platform of your choice with the hashtag #CharteredStar and send your entry to us by midnight (UK-time) on Sunday 19 May. Discover more and start your entry at icaew.com/charteredstar, good luck.
