Information

What does the Syllabus cover?

You will find the Ethics Learning programme syllabus here

How do I access the pilot paper?

The pilot paper is downloadable as a pdf file through the ethics and professional scepticism tab in your training file. The pilot paper provides you with a selection of 30 multiple choice questions in a similar style and format to that of the devolved assessment.

How do I access the assessment?

The assessment is located within the interactive online learning environment select 'My home' to return to the programme page and the click 'Assessment'

How much time will I have to do the assessment?

You will have one hour to complete the assessment. Please note that if you do not complete the assessment within the allocated time frame, the assessment will automatically stop and your results will appear.

If you have been awarded Alternative Examination Arrangements and therefore have additional time when you sit an ICAEW examination, these can also be applied when you are sitting the Ethics assessment.

What types of questions are included in the assessment?

The assessment consists of 30 multiple choice questions covering all areas of the syllabus.

Is each assessment different?

Yes. The assessment consists of a bank of questions from which 30 are selected at random in relation to the programme syllabus.

How do I know my score?

When you have completed the assessment your results will appear immediately and will be recorded in your training file in the following manner:

Results for John Smith question attempt on 17 April 2013 at 10.24 am

Module 1	Module 2	Module 3	Module 4	Module 5	Module 6	Overall
% gained

This information shows the percentage you gained in each module and then an overall percentage for the assessment.

Can I save or print my results

There is no certificate but you will be able to print your results page to discuss with your employer and agree actions going forward.

How do I assess my performance?

You must check with your employer as to their required performance target. The following table sets out the knowledge reflected by each performance level.

% achieved	Level of knowledge of the ICAEW Code of Ethics demonstrated	Actions
70% - 100%	Strong understanding of the principles	Subject to your employer's requirements ICAEW would advise that you have demonstrated a strong understanding of the principles of the Code of Ethics and that your employer can have confidence that you have satisfied the requirements of the Ethics Learning Programme.
50% - 70%	An understanding of the principles	Subject to your employer's requirements you should either Revisit the modules of the learning programme where your performance has not achieved 70% before attempting the assessment again OR Gain mentoring/coaching from your employer in the areas you need to improve your ethical understanding
Below 50%	A limited understanding of the principles	Subject to your employer's requirements you should consider revisiting all modules of the learning programme and attempt the devolved assessment again.

Is there a formal certificate or certificate of completion?

There is no certificate but you will be able to print your results page to discuss with your employer and agree actions going forward.

What do I do if I need further information?
