ICAEW Climate Champions 2023

2050 is too late! It's time to go Net Zero - Now.

Did you know that the accountancy sector is responsible for emitting more than half a million tonnes of CO2 (and equivalent gases) every year?

Going Net Zero doesn't only benefit the planet, it can also help you save money, attract new clients and investors and attract and retain better talent.

Richard Spencer from ICAEW said:

“I believe the accountancy profession has the potential to play a huge leadership role in acting on the climate crisis. We hope that the Net Zero Accountancy Protocol will encourage our members to embark on their own Net Zero journeys.”

At Net Zero Now, we've worked with the ICAEW (as well as Sage, the AAT, the ACCA and the Good Business Charter) to create an industry standard protocol to help accountancy practices get to Net Zero.

And we've created a platform to help you measure your carbon footprint, get bespoke carbon reductions recommendations, offset any remaining emissions, and get certified as Net Zero, with the Net Zero Now platform.

What's the deal for ICAEW members?

Net Zero Now are delighted to be a partner of ICAEW for this Climate Champions initiative.

We're offering any ICAEW member, partaking in the initiative, a 10% discount off our Net Zero Now platform fees for their first 12 months access to the platform.

If you are interested in seeing the platform in action, please sign up to a demo today or contact a member of the Net Zero Now team
